Enable Remote Desktop Connection – Window XP

Left click on the Start button on the bottom left of the screen and right click on My Computer, or the desktop may have an icon that says My Computer, right click on it.
After Accessing My Computer click on Properties.

There will then be a window that is titled System Properties. There will be a series of tabs. Click on the one titled Remote.
On this tab, in the lower half will be Remote Desktop. Check Allow users to connect remotely to this computer.

Click OK

The computer has been setup your for remote access.